VAGARIES.

An off-hand article—the buzz saw. A smart thing—a mustard plaster. A nobby thing in boots—a bunion.

A stare-way—a theater corridor after a matinee.

Dollars and sense are often strangers to each other.

A relic hunter—a fellow endeavoring to capture a widow.

The engagement ring of the period—a 24-foot inclosure.

"Why does a kiss raise the spirits?" "Because it is the cream of tea."

"Strychnine," is the name of a base-ball club about to be organized in Brooklyn.

A young lady is not like a tree—you cannot estimate her age by counting her rings.

He must have been a man of experience who dubbed the baby carriage a "cyclele."

A medical writer says children need more wraps than adults. They generally get more.

The reason men succeed who mind their own business, is because there is so little competition.

Talladega county, Ala., has a good farm. It will be a good place for the dudes to go after wives.

The Crow Indians have become civilized enough to bale up rocks with their hay—this shows progress.

If you want to see how much stir your death will make in the world, listen to the sizzle of a snowflake on a hot brick.

"Sis, give me a lively subject for my composition," said little Ben; and his sister Martha quickly replied "Fleas."

Hens may be a little backward on eggs, but they never fail to come to the scratch where flower beds are concerned.

What is the difference between a timid child and a ship-wrecked sailor? One clings to his ma, and the other to his spar.

The fragments of the fellow who burst into tears were mopped up by Wall street speculators and so for watered stock.

A printer who worked at the case, hurt his arm in a typesetting race. He had to quit work, St. Jacobs Oil did jerk,

The pain clean away from its base.

A strange combination of a prayerful attitude and a cursel mind may be found in the man taking up carpets for Spring cleaning.

STRENGTH

to vigorously push a business, strength to study a profession, strength to regulate a household, strength to do a day's labor without physical pain. All this represents what is wanted, in the often heard expression, "Oh! I wish I had the strength!" If you are broken down, have not energy, or feel as if life was hardly worth living, you can be relieved and restored to robust health and strength by taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, which is a true, tonic—a medicine universally recommended for all wasting diseases.

Dr. N. Fremont St., Baltimore

During the war I was injured in the stomach by a piece of a shell, and have suffered from it ever since. About four years ago it brought on paralysis, which kept me in bed six months, and the best doctors in the city said I could not live.

I suffered fearfully from indigestion, and for over two years could not eat solid food and for a large portion of the time was unable to retain even liquid nourishment. I tried Brown's Iron Bitters and now after taking two bottles I am able to get up and go around and am rapidly improving.

G. DECKER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is a complete and sure remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Weakness and all diseases requiring a true, reliable, non-alcoholic tonic. It enriches the blood, gives new life to the muscles and tone to the nerves.

HOME COMFORT

After a Rainy Ride a Country Physician Tells What He Thinks of Some People.

"I wish to gracious some people would learn when they need a doctor and when they don't," exclaimed Doctor E., as he entered his house in a cosy little village in the interior of the State of New York, after a tedious night ride of many miles.

"I have been down among the mountains to see a man who, the messenger said, was very sick and not likely to live till morning, unless he had immediate help; and found him suffering from a rather sharp attack of colic, which his family might have relieved in 10 minutes, if they had a grain of sense and two or three simple remedies in the house. But no; they must remain ignorant as pigs, and when they think, whether they ever pay him or not."

Why, doctor, what kind of simple remedies, as you call them, do you expect people to keep in the house?" asked his wife, as she poured him a cup of hot tea.

"In this case," answered the Doctor, "if they had only put a BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER on the man's stomach, he would have been all right in an hour, and saved me a dreary ride."

In all ordinary complaints it cures at once.

All diseases are eliminated from the system by what may be roughly called expulsion or extraction, or by a union of the two processes. Benson's Plaster promotes both. It incites the torpid organs to act, and sends its healing, soothing influence through the myriad pores of the skin. All other plasters oblige the patient to wait. They give him hope for to-morrow. Benson's plaster gives them help to-day. Which is better, do you think?

The CAPCINE and keep it in the house. Price 25 cents.

LAND TENURE.

General Clarke, in his third paper in the Carson Appeal on Henry George's theories, says:

"The proposition of Henry George to appropriate land to the common benefit without compensating present owners is not only impracticable, but it is unjust."

It would rob land owners, for the benefit of non-land owners. It would impose the burdens of society upon a portion of its members, and exempt a portion, perhaps the least deserving and best able to bear them.

Those whose wealth consists of money, stocks, securities and moveable goods would be exempt from the payment of taxes, and land owners and such dependent classes as they could shift the burden upon, would be forced to bear the exactations required to keep the machinery of government in motion. It would benefit those whose wealth consists of money, and stocks and chattels, and correspondingly injure those whose wealth is invested in land, and who live by cultivating the soil. The small farmer who builds a home and improves and enriches the soil with his labor; the mechanic, artisan or common laborer, who, by industry and economy, has acquired a habitation, would be overwhelmed in distress, and the bondholder and Shylock would enjoy the blessings of government without contributing to the cost.

But is it just to take from landowners the substance—the kernel of their property? Can it be called "justice" to impoverish one class for the benefit of another? Is it just to take from present owners for the common benefit, without compensation, the land which they have acquired by exchange, or purchase, or through their ancestors, or which they have improved and made valuable by their labor?

Whoever has invested money or labor in land has as high and perfect a right to its exclusive enjoyment as he who has invested his money or labor in the produce of the soil, or cattle, or other property whatsoever. It is his by every principle which underlies the social compact, and for every reason which regulates the conduct of men. If it be said that the soil is the product of nature, so it may with equal truth be said of every living thing, and every tangible substance the hand of man has fashioned, or upon which the skill of labor has wrought. Man creates nothing. He no more makes the beasts of the field than he makes land. He no more creates the products of the soil than the soil itself. If it be said the cunning, and patience, and toil of man has tamed and improved the animal, or planted and cultivated the seed, or fashioned the tool, and given to personal property an altered form and increased value; so also with equal force it may be said the hand of man has reclaimed the soil from the desert and wilderness; subjugated its wild nature, modified its natural tendencies, leveled and fitted it for cultivation, enriched it with fertilizers, and immeasurably bettered its condition and increased its value by labor and the addition of permanent improvements; and, above all, by the social, political and economic advantages and facilities for exchange with which he has surrounded it.

In the abstract it is undoubtedly true that the land is the common heritage—the birthright of all—as much so as the light of the sun, the water we drink, or the air we breathe. So also in precisely the same sense are the products of the soil, the beasts of the field, the birds of the air and the fishes in the sea—every inanimate substance, and every living thing. All matter and all created things are the free gift of Providence to man.

In the same sense also all men are brothers, and all the living have a common and equal right to the bounties of nature and to the works of man.

The things which belong to the dead are common, for the reason that the material which composes them came from the common storehouse, and he who wrought upon and possessed them, having finished his course, can enjoy them no more. So also in the same sense every human creature has the right to take what he can. But it is precisely to regulate these natural and common rights that societies are formed, governments ordained and laws enacted; and it is precisely because these natural and common rights are surrendered, and individual and civil rights established and protected that progress is possible and civilization exists.

The argument of Henry George pushed to its logical results destroys all individual privileges and makes all things common—levels the social fabric by pulling down the top, and reduces society to the extremity of disorder. The truth is, nothing can be enjoyed strictly in common. It is not more certain that each individual life occupies a separate body and exists by independent functions, than that separate and exclusive rights of property are indispensable to private happiness and public prosperity, and must be recognized, otherwise there can be no use of the bounties of nature."

During a performance in Nathan's circus at Suspension Bridge, N. Y., last evening the canvas tents were struck by a terrific rain squall and utterly demolished. About 1,500 people were in the tents and a terrible panic ensued. A large number of persons were injured, though none fatally.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Abram De Force, father of Laura De Force Gordon and Gertie De Force Cluff of the Valley Review, died on the morning of the 4th instant at Lodi, aged 80 years.

A Brooklyn, N. Y., jury to-day gave a woman a verdict for $2,500 in a suit she commenced against two saloon keepers for $10,000 for selling her husband liquor and making a drunkard of him. Probably that is more than her husband was worth. If New York should pay $2,500 each for all her drunkards she would soon be bankrupt.

A San Diego paper says the Indians in that county are possessed with the idea that the Supreme Power has sent Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson to release them from bondage. She has told them that under the treaty with Mexico they are citizens of California and entitled to vote. But how did the Indians sufficiently overcome their contempt for a "squaw" to believe that one would be sent as an agent of the Supreme Power.

It is reported that the Apache murderers, being out of ammunition, now want to be forgiven, and are very anxious to surrender and go onto a reservation until they can replenish. This trick has been played several times too often. They should be courteously received, and immediately turned over to the tender mercies of those whose wives and children have been outraged and scalped.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

Ohio Republican.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 6. The Republican State Convention was called to order at 10 a. m. A great crowd is in attendance. When the name of Senator Sherman was announced as permanent chairman the convention burst into wild enthusiasm and long continued applause. In returning thanks he reviewed the work and history of the party. "The party," he said, "believed in the protection of the American laborer, and in the taxation of the liquor traffic; one question national the other State." Judge Foraker of Cincinnati was then nominated for Governor by acclamation. Foraker appeared later and made quite a long speech of thanks, pledging his best efforts to the cause and outlining the importance of the campaign. The ticket was completed by the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor of Wm. G. Rose of Cleveland; Supreme Judge, Auditor, Treasurer, etc. Adjourned.

Clergymen Should Preach Against Polygamy.

CHICAGO, June 6.

Ex-Governor A. C. Gibbs of Oregon lectured here last night on polygamy. He said it was impossible to convict under the Edmunds law; not much could be expected of the present Congress. All ministers should preach on the subject of polygamy at least once a year, and thus keep interest in the suppression of the evil before the minds of the people.

Cardinal McClosky Ill.

NEW YORK, June 6. It is reported that Cardinal McClosky is dangerously ill.

The Bricklayers' Strike Ended.

CHICAGO, June 6.

Six hundred Union bricklayers had a session last night, and after a long discussion it was decided that the men could go to work wherever they choose at $4 per day, provided they refuse work under non-Union foremen. This practically ends the strike and is regarded as the collapse of the Union.

A Wife Paid for a Drunkard Husband.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 6.

Adelaide S. Smith brought suit under the Civil Damage Act, in Brooklyn against Patrick Dempsey and Cornelius Clarke, liquor dealers, for $10,000 for selling her husband liquor and causing him to become a drunkard. Today the jury gave her a verdict for $2,500.

Desperadoes Captured.

WAVERLY, Iowa, June 6.

The Barber boys were captured last evening about 8 o'clock while eating supper in a house six miles south of Tripoli, Iowa, after a desperate fight in which the Barber boys severely wounded four men, two mortally.

A Texas Storm.

COMANCHE, June 6.

There was a severe storm here last night which blew down several houses, but no lives were lost.

It Wouldn't be noticed in Reno.

NEW YORK, June 6.

There were seven cases of sun-stroke in this city to-day, two of them fatal. The Thermometer marks 90 at 3 p. m.

During a performance in Nathan's circus at Suspension Bridge, N. Y., last evening the canvas tents were struck by a terrific rain squall and utterly demolished. About 1,500 people were in the tents and a terrible panic ensued. A large number of persons were injured, though none fatally.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

Buncombs From the Nihilists—They Tell What They Could Have Done.

LONDON, June 6.

A Times correspondent at Paris says a Nihilist commune has been issued which states that while the force of the Russian government and its most important spies have been concentrated at Moscow during the festivities the Nihilists took advantage to spread documents and enroll supporters in St. Petersburg and many other cities. It says the strength of the party in St. Petersburg is greatly increased, and asserts that there were at the coronation officials and others under orders of the Nihilists near enough to the Czar to have struck him on the brow if the word had been given. It was even feared some too zealous parties might throw a grenade at the Czar.

The Queen Improving.

LONDON, June 6.

It has been officially asserted this afternoon that there is no foundation for any alarm in the rumors that may have been recently put in circulation in regard to the state of health of Queen. Her Majesty is said to be progressing slowly toward the complete recovery of her health. She is pronounced decidedly better. A circular issued this afternoon states she drove out twice Monday in company with Princess Beatrice.

They Want to Learn Something.

PARIS, June 6.

It is stated that the principal object of the Cabinet Council to-day was to examine into the views of the rupture with China supplied by an officer familiar with the country.

Preparing for War.

PARIS, June 6.

War preparations on a great scale are being made in China. Three corps of troops are in readiness and the Chinese fleet is under orders to sail for Tonquin.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota report excellent grain crops.

—Maria Litta, the prima donna, is suffering from acute rheumatism and stomach troubles.

—Queen Victoria is a chronic invalid and her physicians will not permit her to visit Scotland. She is effected with dropsy.

—H. W. Greene, a mechanical engineer supplying steam motive power to a number of manufacturing firms, killed himself.

—Captain John P. Walker, of the Third Cavalry, recently court-martialed and sentenced, has left Fort Apache without leave, and is wandering about New Mexico. He will be arrested if found and examined by a medical board as to his sanity.

—The Coroners jury in New York, after two hours deliberation, returned with a verdict, in which they found that the death of the victim resulted from suffocation by being trampled upon. The jury also found the officers and Trustees responsible in not having the bridge properly policed, and recommended that the passage for foot passengers be improved.

JOTTINGS.

Steamboat Springs are now hot enough for anybody—they are boiling.

The hotels and restaurants have all they want to do.

Lusty crickets and lots of them at Pyramid.

Geo. Ulgett has found a horse. Read 50 cent column.

Miss A. Motley offers misses' sashes, shade hats and veillings at cost in order to make room for other goods.

Eighty in the shade is what the thermometer has tallied for the several warm days now passing.

A glass of Fredricksburg beer is just the thing to take these hot days. Jake Becker keeps the nicest in the country.

Two car-loads of very fat cattle went through Reno from Lovelock last night, for Joe Marzen's Truckee market.

The up-country stages were filled with passengers, and the inns were studded with small packages this morning.

New scarf pins at Nash's. Thermometer at 7, 9, 11, 1, 3—67, 77, 78, 80, 81. In the sun at 3 o'clock, 105.

The bath rooms of Coleman and Pechner are about the only place one can go now and take any comfort. A bath in one of their tubs is delightful these hot days. Go and try it.

John Belz is keeping four men busy this week. His shop is the place to go for a shave, shampoo or hair cut.

Doves sell for 75 cents per dozen. They are quite as good eating as quail, when properly cooked. Along the Truckee river they are plentiful.

Nick Hammersmith has presented Frank Perkins with a horned owl, as a contribution to the Palace zoological garden at the park. The next addition will be an immense anaconda from Africa, procured at great expense.

One of the most delightful places to spend an hour is George Beckers Granite Saloon. All the latest papers are on file, his beer is nice and cool and at noon a fine lunch is served. Drop in.

Nothing sets off a lady so well as a pretty boot. She may have a gorgeous hat, but if her foot is splayed out all over the sidewalk in an ill-fitting boot, she has a clumsy, unfinished appearance. John Sunderland makes a specialty of ladies' wear, and can make a No. 9 foot look as if encased in a Cinderella slipper.

There is a busy buzz of business from morn till night in the store under the GAZETTE office. A. Lindley & Co.'s place is like a beehive. There are no drones—all are workers, from the book-keeper to the man who keeps the butter cool in the cellar.

Knowles & Bainbridge have ascertained exactly what the people need in the line of business they have so successfully established, and they give particular attention to it. In crockery, glassware, hardware, stoves, ranges, cooking utensils, and all descriptions of tinware, Knowles & Bainbridge take the lead.

One of the best features of J. K. Everett's store is that a child will be dealt with as fairly as a grown person. Little children are sent there for groceries, and get just what their parents send them for.

Chisovich & Co., maintain their hold on business. Orders come in thick and fast from all quarters, and are filled promptly. They recommend the goods to be just what they are; therefore a customer gets exactly what he pays for.

"Did that lady take umbrage?" said one of the Levy Bros. to a clerk in their store who had just had a wordy dispute with a customer. "Oh, no; she took ten yards of Turkey-red calico and wanted buttons to match."

A woman in Muhlenberg county, Kentucky, says if she lives until July 5th next she will be 115 years old. She has been married once, has 15 children, 100 grand-children and 35 great-grand children. Though Abrams Bros. of the White House have not quite so many youngsters, they have lots of fine clothing which they will sell at low prices.

QUICKER TRANSMISSION.

The New Schedule that Goes Into Effect Next Month.

The Post says: The traveling public will be glad to learn that the arrangements which have been in progress for some time to shorten the time between Omaha and San Francisco have been completed and will go into effect July 1st. Trains leaving Omaha will make up 12 hours on the Union Pacific and three on the Central Pacific. When the new arrangement goes into effect trains will make less time by 15 hours and 35 minutes between Omaha and San Francisco, arriving in San Francisco at 8 p.m.

The "Man-Eater."
Mike McGowan, the "man-eater," assaulted Captain Matt Canavan yesterday in Virginia and struck him in the face. Canavan pulled his pistol, and would have shot the insolent brute had not someone taken him away.

PERSONALS.

Geo. W. Conkling left for Cedarville this morning.

Rev. J. D. Hammond is in town to help out the Grand Lodge I.O.O.F. E. Erickson, Verdi, spent yesterday in Reno.

J. W. Whitehead of Pyramid came in yesterday.

Horace Smith left for Salt Lake this morning.

The Kelley brothers of Crescent, Plumas county, in for freight, left for home to-day.

Miss Theresa Tufty, daughter of the State Treasurer, is visiting Mrs. Henry Morris.

A jury for the Combs murder trial, which begins next Monday, was drawn yesterday at Carson.

Gus Lewis was out for a drive yesterday in Carson, but is still very feeble.

S. L. Wines of Eureka and C. P. Murray of San Francisco are registered at the Depot.

Judge Bonham of Sheephead Station was passenger on the Surprise valley stage last night.

Meyert & Hughes' stage took out as passengers to-day three responsible-looking men, among whom was one of the Bloods.

Ex-Governor Blasdel was a passenger for San Francisco last night.

R. H. Meechan of the noted Humboldt House went last night.

Mrs. Jennie Hambleton, sister of Frank McCullough, has been appointed to the position in the Carson Mint made vacant by the resignation of Miss Maggie Corkery.

F. C. Dickinson and L. G. Clark left for home this morning, the former for Winnemucca Valley and the latter for Dutch Flat, one hundred miles beyond.

Nasby is 42 years old to-day old enough to be a respectable citizen. His friends remembered him, and sent him several presents. The young ladies at the Lake House were particularly thoughtful. Nasby will, of course, invite all his friends to take a smoke with him.

I. O. O. F.

The Seventeenth Annual Session of the Grand Lodge.

SECOND DAY — MORNING SESSION.

The Lodge met at 10 o'clock. All the Grand Officers and a full representation were present.

The committee on Distribution reported having distributed the Grand Master's report to the various committees to which it was referred.

The committee on the State of the Orders submitted their report endorsing the decisions and recommendations of the Grand Master.

A proposed amendment to the Constitution, changing the time of holding elections in subordinate Lodges was offered and referred to the committee on Legislation.

The petition from Esmeralda Lodge No. 6, asking permission to meet earlier in the month was granted.

After a lengthy debate it was decided by the Grand body to hold their next grand session at Austin, Nevada.

The committees on Finance, Legislation, Appeals and Petitions presented reports which were laid over until to-morrow.

At 12 o'clock the Lodge took a recess until 1 o'clock P.M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Geo. Henning, P. G. M., J. S. Kaneen, P. G. M., and L. L. Crockett, P. G. T., were appointed a Committee on District Deputy Grand Masters.

A report from the Committee on Legislation defining the qualifications for membership, elicited considerable discussion, and occupied considerable time.

Printing of the journals was awarded to Wm. Sutherland of Virginia City.

The Finance Committee reported amount due Representatives for mileage $555.

Two reports from the Legislative Committee went over under the rules until to-morrow.

At 3 o'clock the lodge adjourned to pay a visit to the Insane Asylum.

Report of School Census Marshal of Reno District.

Following is the report of the School Census Marshal: Number of boys between 6 and 18 years of age, 266. Number of girls between 6 and 18 years of age, 295;

Total number of children between 6 and 18 years of age, 561. Number of children under 6 years of age, 290.

Number of children between 18 and 21 years of age, 62. Number of children under 21, born in Nevada, 471. Number of children between 4 and 6 years of age, 98. Number of children between 4 and 6 years of age attending public schools, 2.

Total number of children reported as attending public schools, 408. Total number of children reported as attending private school, 48.

Number of children between 6 and 18 years of age not attending any school, 15. Number of children between 6 and 14 years of age attending public school, 235.

Number of children between 6 and 14 years of age attending private school, 11. Number of children between 8 and 14 years of age not attending any school, 7. Total number under 21, 922.

Stage Agent Abroad.

John Mulroney, agent for Meyert & Hughes' stage line, went out along the line to-day with an eye to business.

BOY BABIES.

The Market Getting Low—A Hint to Married Folks.

It is a perplexing fact that while more boys are born than girls there is a surplus of female population. Of the children born in New York last year, 14,068 were males and 13,253 females, and yet it is impossible for 881,857 members of the gentler sex to find husbands without inquiring an equal number of males to commit bigamy. It has commonly been supposed that war and the hardships and hazards peculiar to their manner of life are the cause of the excess of mortality among males, but a writer in an English medical journal presents statistics to show that four per cent. more boys than girls die before reaching the age of 5 years, and intimates that an explanation is to be found in the difference in nursing the two sexes receive. He does not say whether boy babies are hugged too much or pinched to death by their fair attendants, but a reform in the method of their treatment appears to be imperative. The writer to whom reference is here made is ungalant enough to suggest that the excess of mortality among male infants may be due in part to a higher organism than that of girls, but of course the explanation is unworthy of consideration. Our fair friends will perceive the gravity of this subject for the preservation of boy babies is essential to the supply of husbands. There are nearly a million less males than females in the United States already, and the stagnation in the matrimonial market begins to excite alarm east of the Rockies Reno and Washoe county, and, in fact, the whole State of Nevada is doing her share towards keeping up the stock. The married people in this town generally are living happily and raising families, while the unmarried folks are swinging round the circle and hunting wives and husbands and will be heard from in time. In this county, by close calculation, 5½ boys are born to every 5 girls, but between the ages of 16 and 20 the girls are in the majority.

A BRIEF STRIKE.

How Johnny was suddenly convinced of error.

The following colloquy occurred in a Reno family:

"Johnny, hurry up and get ready to go to school, or you'll be too late."

"I ain't goin', mother."

"Not going! And why not?"

"I've struck."

"Struck! What do you mean by that?"

"Why, didn't pap read in the papers last night about persons skinning, and said it was right for the oppressed to strike too?"

"And I hope you don't call yourself oppressed, do you?"

"Of course I am. If a feller don't want to go to school and his ma makes him go, isn't that oppression?"

"So you have struck, have you?"

"Well, I'll see if I can't strike too."

And just as soon as Johnny saw his mother reaching for the strap his first strike came to an end, for he darted out of the house and was down at the school house in a twinkling.

A Remite Caved On.

According to the Bodie Free Press Wm. Hennessey was caved on in the Standard mine and came very near being fatally injured, suffering a dislocation of the shoulder joint, and also severe bruises on the back. Billy will be re-collected as being a teamster for the Emma Mining Company here a few years ago and well known hereabouts; and if memory serves us right he is nephew of Mrs. Madden, in charge of the county house.

The Temperance Women.

The following officers of the Womans Christian Temperance Union were elected yesterday. President, Mrs. B. F. Leete; First Vice President, Mrs. M. Poor; Second Vice President, Mrs. Cook; Third Vice President, Mrs. W. M. Boardman; Fourth Vice President, Mrs. Merrill; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Fassett; Financial Secretary, Mrs. DeLaMaty; Treasurer, Mrs. Mohr.

Looking for Land.

More applications for the purchase of land are being received at the Central Pacific Land Office than ever before. Lands are wanted in all parts of the country. Monday an application was filed for all the railroad lands in Cache county, U.T., up to 100,000 acres.

The Gas Company's Officers.

At a stockholders meeting of the Reno Gas Company, held yesterday, B. F. Leete, Geo. W. Huffaker and M. C. Lake were elected Trustees. The Board of Trustees organized by electing B. F. Leete, President; G. W. Huffaker, Vice-President; M. C. Lake, Secretary and Superintendent.

Bigger than the Reno Band.

The Theodore Thomas Orchestra, consisting of 70 persons, is on the way to this coast. The party left Omaha by special train over the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad to Ogden, where they took the Central Pacific for San Francisco. They will pass here probably to-morrow.

Not so Very Bad.

Every mill on the Carson river is now at work thumping out precious metals, and C. C. Stevenson is about to build another on the site of the old Rock Island. There must be something in this. There is still considerable backbone to the Comstock.

Cheap Enough.

A. Bantry delivered at Lee's Sta-ble to-day four head of Norman horses of four and five years of age, one pair of blacks and a pair of grays, weighing over twelve hundred pounds each. A Bodie man gets them to the low price of $700.

Tall Grass.

A spear of grass was plucked out of the Golden Eagle Hotel garden last Sunday that measured 3 feet 1½ inches in length.

The River Rising.

The Humboldt is increasing in volume every day and the railroad men say it is quite high from Battle Mountain east.

A PIONEER OF PIONEERS.

One of Commodore Jones' Men Now Living in Reno.

Reno has an old timer in the person of Joseph C. P. Stanley who first struck the Pacific coast in 1842 on the Frigate United States, commanded by Commodore Jones. He was a sailor on her at the time when Jones landed at Monterey and took possession of the country. Jones hoisted the stars and stripes but was compelled to take them down in a day or two and was court-martialed for overstepping his authority. He went back around the horn and changed to the Frigate Congress, in which he served during the Mexican war. After the war he left the navy and lived two years in San Diego and two in Los Angeles. He came to San Francisco in 1852 and to Nevada in 1861. He lived in Washoe for some years and on the Comstock afterwards, returning to Washoe recently. He is a native of Baltimore, Md., 59 years old. Both his grandfathers were in the revolutionary war, and he and four brothers were in the Mexican war. He was in the Florida war also. He was one of 17 children—15 boys and two girls, among them five pairs of twins. He lives here with one of his sisters, S. K. J. Stanley, who died in Reno last fall, was his brother and an old soldier.
